Due to large-scale international sanctions and the so-called "cancel culture", international dispute resolution is one of the most pressing issues on the agenda for companies operating in Russia. Since February 2022, the approaches of Russian and foreign courts have been changing rapidly.

VEGAS LEX in association with AEB and experts of foreign law firms* invite you to discuss Russian and foreign litigation cases and barriers blocking access to justice at the conference "Disputes Involving Non-Residents: To Russia With Love?" which will be held on September 29, 2022, at 11:00 in offline format at the AEB Conference Center, office 13, floor 1, bld.1, 68/70 Butyrsky Val Str., Moscow.

THE DISCUSSION PROGRAM INCLUDES:

Interim Measures: Stay (Away)

- In which cases interim measures are necessary or excessive?
- Overview of commercial courts' approaches in 2022. The most interesting conclusions
- Interim measures in the UK. New barriers blocking access to justice

Sanctions-Related Disputes

- Exclusive jurisdiction of Russian commercial courts in 2022: simple solution vs effective one?
- Sanctions disputes: a view from the European Union
- Optimal contractual terms on dispute resolution. Personal experience and market practice

Recognition and Enforcement of Judicial and Arbitral Awards

- The position of Russian commercial courts – what has changed?
- Recognition and enforcement of Russian court decision and arbitral awards: specifics in Switzerland. The impact of sanctions on the provision of services to Russian clients
